5. What are the possible outcomes of my investment?

The Fund is a wholesale equity fund that invests in a variety of sectors across Asia excluding Japan in equities and equity-related instruments. The performance of the Fund would be dependent on the asset classes that are investable by the Fund and reliant on the External Investment Manager's expertise in managing the Fund to meet its investment objective.

The Sophisticated Investors may gain from the appreciation of unit price as a result of the increase in value of the underlying and/or accrual of profit earned. However, investment involves risk. The value of the Fund may rise or fall. The Fund is not expected to make distribution. However, incidental distribution may be declared whenever is appropriate. These risk factors, among others, may cause you to lose part or all of your investment.

KEY RISKS

6. What are the key risks associated with this product?

Specific risks related to the Fund:
General Investment Risk	There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. The instruments invested by the Fund may fall in value due to any of the key risk factors listed in this section and therefore your investment in the Fund may suffer losses. There is no guarantee of the repayment of principal.
External Investment Manager's Risk	The investments of Fund are managed by the External Investment Manager; therefore, the Manager has no control over the External Investment Manager's investment technique, knowledge or management expertise. In the event of mismanagement of the investments by the External Investment Manager, the NAV of the Fund would be affected negatively. The Fund would also be affected should there be any unresolved dispute between the Manager and the External Investment Manager. Although the probability of such occurrence is minor, should the situation arise, the Manager reserves the right to seek an alternative external investment manager that is able to achieve the objective of the Fund.
Equity Investment Risk	The value of equities and equity-related instruments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. The prices of the equities and equity-related instruments may fluctuate in response to the circumstances affecting individual companies such as adverse financial performance, news of a possible merger or loss of key personnel of a company. Any adverse price movements of such equities or equity-related investment will adversely affect the Fund's NAV. The shares can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher risks than other investment instruments.
Currency Risk	As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the Base Currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Base Currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Investors should be aware that if the currencies in which the investments are denominated depreciate against the Base Currency, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund in the Base Currency and vice versa. Investors should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment. i) Currency risk at the Fund level The impact of the exchange rate movement between the Base Currency and the currency of the investments (other than in USD) of the Fund may result in a depreciation of the value of the investments as expressed in the Base Currency. ii) Currency risk at the Class level The impact of the exchange rate movement between the Base Currency and the currency of the respective Classes (other than USD Class) may result in a depreciation of the investor's holdings as expressed in the Base Currency. iii) Currency risk at the Hedged Class level Investors in the hedged Classes are subject to minimal currency risk as we will as much as practicable mitigate this risk by hedging these currencies against the Base Currency. Investors should note that by employing this hedging, investors would not be able to enjoy the additional currency gains when the Base Currency moves favourably against the currencies of the Classes. Additional transaction costs of hedging will also have to be borne by investors in these Classes.
Liquidity Risk	The Fund may have insufficient cash to meet redemption requirements; hence, the External Investment Manager may be required to prematurely unwind positions in longer term placements resulting in foregone interest or unwind positions in equities which are not in the favours position resulting in loss of capital to the Fund.
Emerging Markets Risk	The Fund invests in emerging markets which may involve increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets such as, liquidity risk, currency risks/ control, political and economic uncertainties, policy, legal or regulatory event affecting the relevant markets and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.
Counterparty Risk	Investors in the hedged Classes of the Fund are subject to counterparty risk on the derivatives contract that may be entered into with the financial institutions. Hence, any default or downgrade in rating by the counterparty would affect the NAV of the hedged Classes. In mitigating this risk, the Manager will carry out stringent selection process on the counterparty before entering into the derivatives contract with the counterparty.
Volatility Risk	Investors should note that volatility in the Fund's investment portfolio may result in large fluctuations in the NAV of the Fund which may adversely affect the NAV per Unit and investors may as a result suffer losses.
Concentration Risk	As the Fund will invest primarily in equities and equity related securities with exposure to Asian countries, such concentration may exhibit a higher than usual degree of risk and the Fund may be subject to above average volatility. The diversification benefits that would ordinarily accrue from investment in a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments, may not apply to this Fund.

Risk of Investing in Financial Derivative Instruments (“FDI”) for Efficient Portfolio Management and Hedging Purposes	Investments of the Fund may comprised FDI used for efficient portfolio management or to attempt to hedge or reduce the overall risk of its investments. Risks associated with FDI include counterparty/credit risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk and over-the-counter transaction risk. The leverage element/component of a FDI can result in a loss significantly greater than the amount invested in the FDI by the Fund. Exposure to FDI may lead to a high risk of significant loss by the Fund.

Note:

Please refer to Chapter 2 of the Information Memorandum for further information on the risk factors.

It is important to note that events affecting the investments cannot always be foreseen. Therefore, it is not possible to protect investments against all risks. The various assets classes generally exhibit different levels of risk.

You are recommended to read the whole Information Memorandum to assess the risks associated to the Fund. If necessary, you should consult your adviser(s) for a better understanding of the risks.

Please be advised that if a Sophisticated Investor invests in units through an IUTA which adopts the nominee system of ownership, the Sophisticated Investor would not be considered to be a Unit Holder under the Deed and the Sophisticated Investor may consequently not have all the rights ordinarily exercisable by a Unit Holder (for example, the right to call for a Unit Holders’ meeting and to vote thereat and the right to have the Unit Holder’s particulars appearing in the register of Unit Holders of the Fund).
