

Types of personal data/information which may be collected includes, but not limited to:

- a) Name and appropriate identification of the data subject such as MyKad/Passport/Driver's licence number.
- b) Contact details which include physical address, postal address, email address, username, password, telephone numbers, emergency contact details and beneficiaries.
- c) Name, age, gender and contact details of spouse, dependent and next of kin.
- d) Information relating to commercial transaction such as purchases history, health/safety-related information, membership, travel and competition entries.
- e) Employment details such as resume, job position, location of office, employment contract/duration, performance/disciplinary record, income level, details of referee and education/qualification.
- f) Relevant information of directors and personnel within TA Group.
- g) Relevant information of shareholders and investors of companies within TA Group.
- h) Medical information such as medical history, health insurance and medication.
- i) Background and criminal information, includes any past breaches of or convictions under any law.
- j) Financial information such as bank account and credit/debit card details.
- k) Biometric information such as fingerprints and facial recognition data.
- l) Information obtained via communication methods such as email, text messages and other communication platform.
- m) Images information including photographs in audio or video format, CCTV and security recording.
- n) Online activity and information from device such as identifiers, account login information, bot website/app usage, mobile/web network activity, IP address, cookies, tracking data and social media information.
- o) Information on individual preferences, characteristics, behaviours, intelligence and skills.

Unless otherwise specified by us at the time the personal data is collected, it is obligatory that the personal data requested by us is provided. Failing to supply us with the required personal data, we may not be able to carry out the intended purpose and possibly in breach of certain requirements of the relevant rules by the data subject.

4. Minors and Sensitive Personal Data

Personal data of children under the age of eighteen (18) years old shall only be collected with the consent of their parents or guardians. We do not knowingly collect personal data from minors and shall delete the relevant information if we ascertain that such information was collected without the consent of the parent or guardian.

Sensitive personal data shall not be shared or disclosed to any third party unless the data subject has given an express written consent.